

Cauble & Harre Wealth Management, Inc.
CLIENT RELATIONSHIP SUMMARY v. May 7, 2020

This is the Client Relationship Summary for Cauble & Harre Wealth Management, an SEC-Registered Investment Adviser. Brokerage and Investment Advisory services and fees differ, and it is important that you understand those differences.

Free and simple tools are available to you to research firms and financial professionals at Investor.gov/CRS, which also provides educational materials about broker-dealers, investment advisers, and investing.

What investment services and advice can you provide me?

The investment advisory services we provide are covered under a comprehensive service that combines financial planning and portfolio management services.

In our comprehensive service, we will continuously monitor your investments and provide advice.

In our comprehensive service, we take discretionary authority in your accounts, which allows us to buy and sell investments in your account without asking you in advance.

We do not have minimum account sizes or investment amounts.

For more information, please review our disclosure brochure, which is available here.

Ask us: Given my financial situation, should I choose an investment advisor service? Why or why not? How will you choose investments to recommend to me? What is your relevant experience, including your licenses, education and other qualifications? What do these qualifications mean?

What fees will I pay?

You will pay a fixed fee in quarterly installments and a percentage of your assets under management for ongoing comprehensive services. There is a minimum fee associated with our services. You should be aware that the more assets there are in your account, the more you will pay in fees. This means we have an incentive to encourage you to increase the assets in your account. You will also incur other fees including for brokerage fees and commissions, management fees for mutual funds and ETFs, custodian fees, retirement account fees, trade ticket charges, or banking fees in connection with an investment account and the securities in the account; CHWM does not receive any of these other fees.

You will pay fees and costs whether you make or lose money on your investments. Fees and costs will reduce any amount of money you make on your investments over time. Please make sure you understand what fees and costs you are paying. For more information, please review our disclosure brochure, which is available here.

Ask us: Help me understand how these fees and costs might affect my investments. If I give you $10,000 to invest, how much will go to fees and costs, and how much will be invested for me?

What are your legal obligations to me when acting as my investment adviser? How else does your firm make money and what conflicts of interest do you have?

When we act as your investment adviser, we have to act in your best interest and not put our interest ahead of yours. At the same time, the way we make money creates some conflicts with your interests. You should understand and ask us about these conflicts because they can affect the investment advice we provide you. Here are some examples to help you understand what this means.

CLIENT RELATIONSHIP SUMMARY v. May 7, 2020

While CHWM works to minimize conflicts with clients, simply setting a fee for our services creates a conflict; we have an incentive to provide advice that would result in you increasing assets under our management.

Ask us: How might your conflicts of interest affect me, and how will you address them?

For more information, please review our disclosure brochure, which is available here.

How do your financial professionals make money?

Our firm's only compensation comes from our advisory fees. Our employees receive salaries for the work they perform on your behalf. In addition to salaries, advisors have health and dental care benefits available to them. Advisors will receive bonuses and/or profit-sharing contributions depending on the profitability of the firm. Owners of the firm will receive dividends or distributions if there are funds available after all expenses. No one at the firm – other than as described – is compensated based upon: the product sold (i.e., differential compensation); product sales commissions; or revenue the firm earns from the financial professional's advisory services or recommendations.

Do you or your financial professionals have legal or disciplinary history?

No; however, Investor.gov/CRS has a free and simple search tool that allows you to research your financial professionals.

Ask us: As a financial professional, do you have any disciplinary history? For what type of conduct?
